About the Chamber

The Cotati Chamber is more than 100 years old! It was founded in the early 1900s under the name of the Cotati Promotion Club. During World War I, the name was changed to the Cotati Chamber of Commerce. In the depression of the 1930s, the Lions Club took over the civic functions of the Chamber. In 1940, the Chamber was reactivated and incorporated in 1958. Since then, the Chamber has helped Sonoma State University and other businesses locate to Cotati.

Visitor Information Center

The Cotati Chamber of Commerce also serves as the Cotati Visitor Information Center. Informational publications and maps are available.

Chamber Governance

The Chamber is a non-prot organization, funded by membership dues, fundraising projects, donations and grants. The Chamber is made up of two governing bodies: a 14-member Board of Directors and the general membership. General membership consists of local merchants and individuals in the community.

Mission of the Chamber

The Cotati Chamber is a volunteer member organization of business people and individuals who promote the economic well-being of Cotati and adjacent lands. The Chamber promotes activities and planning that enhance the local economy, provide employment, cultural and recreational opportunities; and protect and preserve the environment. We will continue to work together to ensure Cotati is an economically viable and desirable community in which to live and work.
